From The Desk Of...

LLCA goes far beyond preparing students for college. I am enjoying spending some time with our seniors in worldview class. We are evaluating things how God created them, the result of sin, and how God restores them. Christianity is about taking broken people, introducing them to Christ, helping them transform their lives, and then using those transformed people to transform the world. Secular culture is sending a different message to our kids. If we convince broken people they aren't broken, they won't transform into what God designed them to become, or be able to help the world around them!
